

Call for Proposals for a Pilot Project for developing the use of new technologies and digital tools in education

- Opening: 28 September 2016

Closing: 14 November 2016

The aim of this pilot project is to identify existing digital learning solutions that can support teachers in the classroom and parents at home with pupils having attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder and/or concentration problems, and to provide good practice examples where technology has been successfully used in daily classroom activities to help pupils with attention-deficit hyperactivity disorder and concentration problems.
